I Have been desired to publish the few following Rules, relating to the Methods of matching and fighting of Cocks in London, said to have been in Practice there, ever since the Time of King Charles the Second.

Which Methods in fighting of a Main are,
To begin the same by fighting the lightest Pair of the Cocks (which fall in Match) first, proceeding successively upward, to the end; that every lighter Pair may fight earlier than those which are heavier, and every heavier Pair, later than those which are lighter; and consequently, that the largest of all may fight last.

In matching (with relation to the Battles) it is a Rule always in London,

That after Cocks for the Main are weighed, and the Match Bills are compared,

That every Pair of Dead, or equal Weight are separated, and fight against others, provided that it appears, that the Main can be enlarged, by adding thereto, either one Battle or more thereby.
